WILL NAME COMMITTEE TO-DAY

Richmond Cotton-Buying Club, has opened headquarters at the Bank of Commerce and Trusts, Mutual Building, Ninth and Main Streets, where subscriptions of those who wish to aid in the "buy-a-bale" movement will be received. in the "buy-a-paie movement of the buying committee—
Mayor Ainslie, chairman; Herbert W.
Jackson, president of the Virginia
Trust Company, and Henry E. Litchford, vice-president of the Old Dominford, vice-president of the Old Domin-

Trust Company, and Henry E. Litchford, vice-president of the Old Dominion Trust Company—are in close touch with buyers in Southern States, and, following a meeting, to be held in a few days, all orders received in Richmond will be placed and negotiable warehouse receipts mailed to the purchasers.

Percy C. Christian, who was elected chairman of the soliciting committee at a meeting held on Tuesday, will announce to-day, it is expected, the names of the men who will aid in relieving the critical situation now prevailing among the cotton-growers. This will be the final step in the organization of the Richmond Club, and will mean the opening of a brisk campaign, in which it is hoped to sell in this city at least 2,000 bales, So far Richmond has assumed a prominent place in the movement, which is sweeping the entire country, and the enthusaism of its supporters continues unabated. Each has asserted that the campaign must be carried to a successful conclusion, as they hope the city will maintain its position in the forefront.

To buy a bale of cotton, it is not necessary to visit the club's head-quarters; a telephone message to any of the officers or members will be suf-of the officers or members will be sur-ficient.

Nearly 300 bales have so far been subscribed for in Richmond, and this number is expected to go up by leaps and bounds when the canvassing com-mittee is organized and gets down to business.

ARRESTED AS HOBOES

Three White Men Charged With Disorderly Conduct in Henrico County.

Before they hardly had time to realize what was taking place, three white men, giving their names as R. J. Hewitt, W. A. Jones and A. B. Jones, were arrested yesterday afternoon on the Osborne Turnpike by County Officers John Shoemaker and G. A. Pyper and hurried to the Henrico County Jail by automobile. The three men are described by the officers as being "plain hoboes." All of them are residents of Richmond. The three men stopped at several houses along the road, a mile or more east of the city and in commanding tones asked for a "hand-out." When they got nothing they became indignaht. A telephone message from the residence of Deputy Sheriff Webb B. Sydnor notified the county authorities of the incident. Borrowing the automobile of Napoleon Williams, which stood in front of the County Courthouse, Officers Shoemaker and Pyper hurried to the trouble zone, and a few minutes later had the three disturbers under arrest and were on their way back to the County Jail. The three men will be charged with disorderly conduct.

ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

Ward Bagby, Arrested on Hold-Up Charge, Swallows Drug.

Arrested on a charge of attempting to hold up Robert J. Brown, colored, in the Capitol Square Monday night, Ward Bagby Tuesday attempted suicide in the First Precinct Station by swallowing a quantity of morphine. The drug was pumped from his stomach by Ambulance Surgeon Gorman, who had the man removed to the Virginia Hospital. He gave considerable trouble there, and an officer was sent to guard him. In some unexplained manner he succeeded in hiding another packet of the drug about his person and made a second attempt at suicide in the hospital. He was again given emergency treatment. His condition was reported as being serious last night.

When the case was called in the Police Court yesterday morning it was announced that Bagby was too ill to appear, and Justice Crutchfield continued the hearing until October 9. Brown exhibited several lacerations on the head, which he said had been made by Bagby when he attacked him with the butt end of his revolver.
